The Star Choice™ Buyer's Guide

WASCA is pleased to publish the July 2023 edition of the Star Choice™ Buyers Guide (the Guide).

The Guide is a register of manufactured products that makes it easier for school canteens and community venues, to stock and promote healthier choices of a wide range of food and beverages.

The Star Choice™ Nutrient Criteria addresses levels and types of fat, sodium, fibre and sugar in foods. Excessive amounts of these nutrients and inadequate amounts of fibre have been associated with an increased risk of developing chronic health problems. Some categories also include maximum portion sizes and/or energy (kilojoule) requirements. It cannot be assumed that a larger size of the same product meets the criteria for registration. For example, a 25g packet may be registered, but a 50g packet of the same product may not meet the criteria for registration because it exceeds the kilojoule allowance.

Schools are required to follow the Department of Education's Student Health Care Policy* that includes healthy food and drinks. The policy is underpinned by the Star Choice™ Nutrient Criteria and a traffic light system is used to classify foods and drinks as GREEN, AMBER or RED based on their nutritional value. This edition of the Guide also includes traffic light colour coding for community venues. To ensure that only the healthiest products are listed in the Guide, products are first assessed against the Star Choice™ Nutrient Criteria and are then assessed against the criteria used in community venues.

GREEN food and drinks

- Form the basis of a healthy diet
- Are good sources of vital nutrients
- Are core food and drinks from the five food groups in the Australian Guide to Healthy Eating
- Should fill the menu and be promoted

AMBER food and drinks

- Have some nutritional value
- May contain moderate amounts of energy, fat, sugar and/or salt
- Should be selected carefully
- Should not dominate the menu

RED food and drinks

- Lack adequate nutritional value
- Are often high in energy, fat, sugar and/or salt
- Are discretionary items in Australian Guide to Healthy Eating
- Are off the menu in WA school canteens

Community venues are supported by WASCA's Fuel to Go & Play® initiative, in partnership with Healthway. This includes sporting clubs, recreation centres and entertainment venues that are owned and operated by State Sporting Associations and peak bodies as well as WA state and local governments.

Community venues vary with the types of food services they offer. Larger venues offer franchised cafes or volunteer run canteens/kiosk or vending machines. Others will roll out a BBQ on game days or have food trucks attend events. Fuel to Go & Play® uses the Department of Health's Healthy Options WA Food and Nutrition Policy. © State of Western Australia, used with permission.

*The Department of Education's Healthy Food and Drink (HFD) policy was reviewed and updated. The revised policy is called the Student Health Care policy, effective 17 July 2023. The Traffic Light system remains unchanged; training requirements include all staff and volunteers to complete FoodSafe Food Handler Training and All About Allergens training. For more information visit the WASCA website or talk to your principal.

How to read the Star Choice™ Buyer's Guide

Childhood and adolescence are important periods of growth and development and for these to occur optimally, adequate energy and nutrients must be eaten. Canteen and food service menus should be consistent with the Australian Dietary Guidelines and include a wide variety of nutritious foods from the five food groups according to the Australian Guide to Healthy Eating. To meet nutritional needs, when planning menus, emphasis should be given to food and drinks categorised as GREEN.

Products in the Guide are arranged in categories according to the nutrient criteria applied to assess them, e.g. all breads, cereals, rice, pasta and noodle products are grouped together. This makes it easier and quicker to find products. Within each of these categories there are sub-categories, e.g. breakfast cereals would be shown as 1.2 in the Guide.

The major categories for registration are:

1. Breads, cereals, rice, pasta and noodles (including fruit breads, flat breads and crisp breads)
2. Vegetables and vegetable products
3. Fruit and fruit products (including juice, canned fruit)
4. Dairy products and dairy alternatives (including milk, yoghurt, cheese and/or alternatives)
5. Meat and meat alternatives (including meat, fish, poultry, eggs, nuts, legumes — both fresh and processed lines)
6. Mixed foods (hot and cold prepared dishes)
7. Miscellaneous foods (snack foods)
8. Beverages
9. Fats and oils including fat spreads

The following example explains each column of the Guide:

Company/Brand/Contact details

Product name and flavour/variety — check carefully which flavours are registered as some varieties of the same product may not meet registration criteria

Recommended serve size

Serve size — it is particularly important to note the size of the serve that has been registered as larger sizes of the same product may not meet criteria. Where bulk lines are registered, e.g. slushies, the serve size shown is the specific size that has been registered.

Colour coding — Products are colour coded as either GREEN or AMBER. Use this coding when menu planning:
GREEN — Fill the menu
AMBER — Select carefully — do not let these dominate the menu.

Disclaimer

The criteria for registering products does not address food additives (with the exception of sweeteners), colourings, preservatives or flavourings as their addition or otherwise to food and beverages is controlled by the government body, Food Standards Australia New Zealand.

Only products submitted for registration have been assessed by WASCA for inclusion in the Guide, therefore not all sub-categories currently have products listed. A food or drink product that is not registered may still meet the nutrient criteria for registration and be suitable for sale. WASCA can provide advice on individual products. This is a free service provided to WASCA members.

WASCA has undertaken a process to ensure the information in the Star Choice™ Buyers' Guide is accurate and reliable at the date of publication, however there may be instances where products reformulate and no longer meet criteria. It is the purchaser's responsibility to decide the suitability of each product for their school or community venue. WASCA is not liable for products purchased. The information contained is based on information provided by companies and on product labels.

BE A CONTAINER SAVING CANTEEN WITH CONTAINERS FOR CHANGE

Want to save 10¢ containers from landfill while raising money for your school or club? You can through Containers for Change!

Since 1 October 2020, Western Australians have saved over 2 billion 10¢ containers from landfill and donated over $8 million through Containers for Change to local charities, community groups, and schools!

Across WA, school and club canteens are selling millions of 10¢ containers. You can do your part to give these drink containers another life, while earning funds for your community.

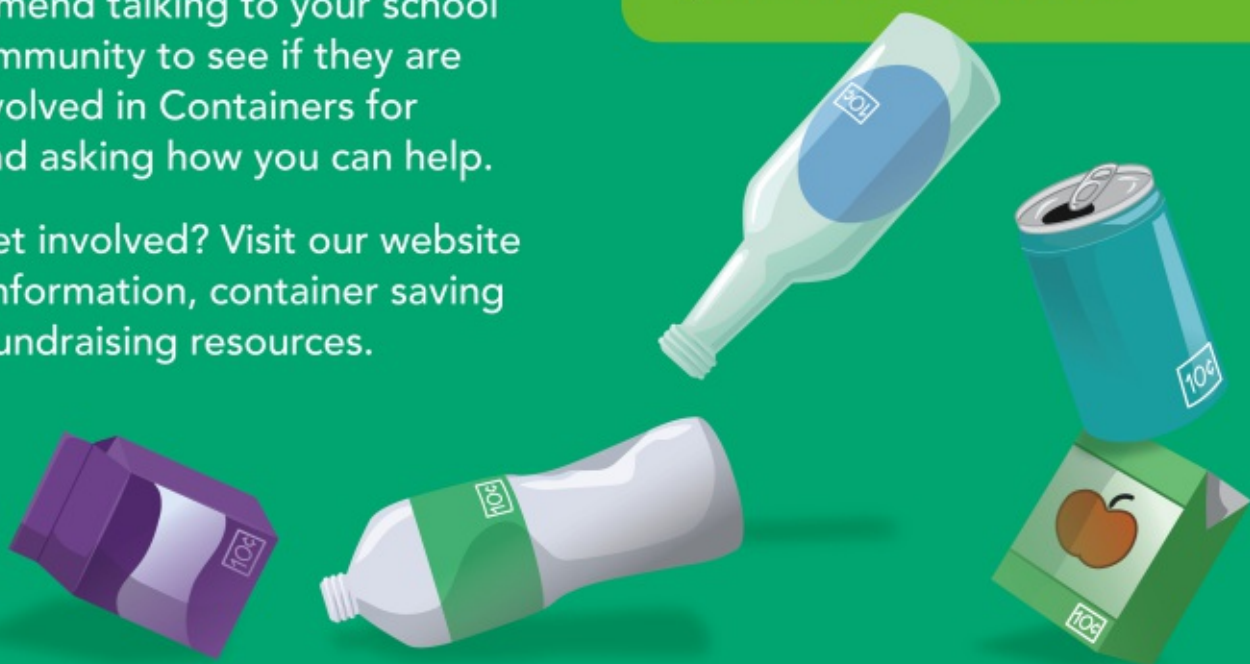

We recommend talking to your school or club community to see if they are already involved in Containers for Change and asking how you can help.

Want to get involved? Visit our website for more information, container saving tips, and fundraising resources.

Plant-Based Raw Materials

Plant-based products are designed to minimise the impact on our environment at each stage of their life cycle, by using materials that are both sustainably sourced and rapidly renewable.

The End is Just the Beginning

BioPak products are designed to turn into compost, a new, valuable and locally produced resource at the end of their useful life.

BioPak Packaging

BioPak's compostable packaging is certified to either home and/or industrially compostable third party Australian certifications AS5810 or AS4736.

Compostable Solution

Compostable packaging can help divert food scraps from landfill, avoiding harmful greenhouse gas emissions. Both food waste and compostable packaging can go in the same bin to be turned into nutrient-rich compost.

How Can Your School Start Composting?

Food and drink residue makes paper and plastic recycling an impractical disposal solution for the foodservice industry, but it's not a problem for composting.

Essential for all school canteens!

Everyone working with food in schools has a personal responsibility to handle food safely. Following good food safety practices is the best way to ensure the food supplied is safe and high customer satisfaction.

WASCA promotes best practice in all aspects of food service operations, including training. There are three training requirements for WA schools.

FoodSafe® Food Handler Training

waschoolcanteens.org.au/training/foodsafety-training/

- All canteen staff and volunteers must complete FoodSafe®, or its equivalent
- WASCA provides free access to FoodSafe® online training for WASCA members
- This is a requirement of the new Food Safety Standard and the WA Department of Education's Student Health Care Policy & Procedures (that includes Healthy Food and Drinks).

Food Safety Supervisor Training

waschoolcanteens.org.au/training/foodsafety-training/

- WASCA training includes two units of competency
 - SITXFSA005 – Use hygienic practices for food safety
 - SITXFSA006 – Participate in safe food handling practices.
- Our course has been tailored to school canteens, all assessments are completed on the day
- Networking with WASCA staff and other school canteens is factored into every session.

All About Allergens Training

foodallergytraining.org.au

- Free online course, takes approx 60 minutes
- Gain knowledge about food allergens, and develop best practice procedures to ensure safe food provision to students and staff with food allergy
- This is a requirement the WA Department of Education's Student Health Care Policy & Procedures (that includes Healthy Food and Drinks).
